

Great Leadership Week Awaited

LEADERSHIP LINENS — JoAnn Decker counts sheets held by Sears Hinze, On-Campus facilities director, as Gene Pratt (on left) hands another stack of linens from a top shelf. Leadership guests will be housed on-campus in Amanda Knight Hall, Knight-Mangum Hall, and the Heritage Halls. Meet runs Monday through Friday.

Record Enrollment Seen For 33rd Annual Session

Some 4,000 Church workers, a record enrollment, are expected to begin arriving on the Brigham Young University Campus for the 33rd annual Leadership Week, June 18 through 22.

Theme for the week, "Widening Horizons" expresses planners hopes to present academic and spiritual knowledge to the thousands of church workers from the stakes and missions of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints who will attend.

The program is presented by the Extension Division in cooperation with all the colleges of the university. Extension Division Director Dr. Herald Clark is coordinator and Dr. Lynn M. Hilton of the Extension Division is assistant coordinator. During the week over 600 hours of instruction will be given free by BYU faculty members and guests instructors.

Special emphasis will be given to genealogy. This year six departments have been organized. They include Genealogical Leadership, Modern Research Methods, American Research Exercises, Scandinavian Pedigree Problems, and two British Isles Research Problems.

The fourth class each day will be devoted to a forum discussion of research problems. Attempts will be made to help those in attendance with their own research problems.

Outstanding basic offering in the fields of recreation, hobbies and health is a series of lectures by Jay B. Nash, Dean of the College of Health, Physical Education.

Registration Figures Twice Previous Year's

By Roberta Hansen

Summer school registration most doubled at the end of the first day of registration this year compared with last year, Dean Bliss H. Crandall noted.

This year 1,959 students registered, but 2,011 packets were handed out, Dean Crandall said. This was a considerable increase over last year's first day registration when 1,304 registered, and surpassed last year's second day registration figure of 1,590.

Final enrollment for both sessions totaled 2,097, which is most this year's first session enrollment.

Changes in registration will be made today, and beginning Tuesday, June 19, a fee will be charged for all changes. The dean's signature is required on all changes. Beginning on Thursday, June 21, the signatures of teachers will be required as well. This includes the signatures for those classes being dropped as well as classes being added, Dean Crandall said.

Any student who expects to register and has not advised the admissions committee that he is coming, should report to the admissions office Room 180 Maeser Building. For those who report before noon each day packets will be ready by 2 p.m. that afternoon. Those who report to the office between 12 and 5 p.m. will not receive packets until 10 a.m. the next morning.

Dean Crandall said class rolls were in the hands of the department chairmen Wednesday.

Touring Japanese Law Professor Visits Y Campus

A leading Japanese educator, Professor Isao Kikuchi, was a visitor on the Brigham Young University campus on Monday and Tuesday, as part of the Leader Program of the International Educational Exchange Service sponsored by the United States Department of State.

Professor Kikuchi, who is professor of law at Kyushu University, has been in the United States since March 21, visiting American universities. He will make stops in Los Angeles and San Francisco before returning to Japan.

While in Provo, Prof. Kikuchi renewed his acquaintance with Dean Wesley P. Lloyd, Dean of Students at BYU. Dean Lloyd was an educational advisor in Japan on two different occasions since the end of the war.

In commenting on the opportunities for higher education in Japan, Prof. Kikuchi stated that there were equal opportunities for all to attend college in Japan.

Y Administrator Is New Police Chief

W. Cleon Skousen, for the past five years director of public services at Brigham Young University, Monday took the oath of office as Salt Lake City police chief. He replaces Odes B. Record, who resigned May 14.

A native of Canada, Skousen has a law degree from George Washington University and served 17 years with the FBI. During World War II, he served as administrative assistant to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Skousen has been at BYU since 1951. He was assistant professor of speech and active in forensics.

Teachers Get Religion . . .

Bi-Annual Session Draws Religion Teachers

By Charles R. Averett

Approximately 280 institute and seminary teachers have enrolled in a special summer session at Brigham Young University, according to President William E. Berrett, Vice President in charge of Religious Education.

Nomination, Election Set For Summer Officers

Nominations for summer studentbody officers will be made today in studentbody assembly, according to Dr. Henry Isaksen, student coordinator. Students will vote Friday and results will be announced during intermission at the opening social of the year Friday evening.

In addition to nominating speeches, each candidate will make a short speech during the assembly. Positions as president, vice president and secretary-treasurer are open.

Candidates must be full time registered students but may be either graduates or undergraduates. To meet requirements they must be attending both sessions of summer school and have a total of at least 10 hours.

Voting machines Friday will be set up in both the David O. McKay Building and the Eyring Science Center. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Dancing is scheduled Friday from 8:30 until 12 p.m. at Rainbow Gardens, or in case of rain, in the Social Hall. Dick Ballou and his Y's Men will play and refreshments will be served.

Special feature of the dance will be the get acquainted mixers which are planned, according to Dr. Isaksen. Dress is sports.

Students will be admitted on their activity cards. Dance is stag or drag.

Keep Books off Stairs They're Booby Traps

It is quite apparent that students dislike books when they are left on stairways in the campus buildings.

Harvey L. Taylor, executive assistant to the president, said this week that one or two rather serious accidents have occurred from this habit, when individuals not noticing the books stumbled over them and fell.

Pres. Taylor also issued an ultimatum that in the future any books left on stairways, when discovered, will be sent to Lost and Found. He urged the cooperation of all students in this matter.

'Cadillac' Set For Tonight; Darwell Stars

"Solid Gold Cadillac", Broadway comedy hit, will have its opening performance at Brigham Young University tonight. Star of the show which runs through Saturday is Jane Darwell, Academy Award Actress.

The play is a satire on big-corporation business. Miss Darwell will portray the obscure little stockholder "Mrs. Laura Partridge" whose innocent questions at a stockholders' meeting create chaos among the corporation board of directors.

The cast, as announced by play director Harold I. Hansen, Speech Department chairman, has a heavy sprinkling of faculty members and graduate students.

Narrator will be Lynn McKinlay, special instructor in speech. The role of "Clifford Snell" will be played by Lee Scanlon, Mask Club scholarship winner; Dr. Merlin J. Mechem, assistant professor of speech, is "Warren Gillie"; Charles Whitman, Montpelier, Ida. is "Mark Jenkins"; Morris Clinger, assistant professor of speech, is "Edward McKeever"; Jeanne Warner is "Amelia Shotgraven," and Dr. Gerrit de Jong Jr., Dean of the College of Fine Arts is "John Blessington."

Stage settings are being designed by Bill Demos. Technical directors are Robert Struthers and George Tanner and costumes are being designed by Dorothy Whittaker.

Students may obtain tickets at the Joseph Smith Building Information Booth by presenting their activity cards.

STAFF MEETS TODAY YOU'RE INVITED

All students interested in working on the Summer Universe should attend staff meeting at 4:30 p.m. Thursday in the Universe office, Room 141 Student Service Center.

Positions are open for editorial workers, reporters and receptionists. The Universe also needs persons who are interested in writing music, drama or current events columns. No experience is needed.

Office hours will be from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday through Friday. Deadline for advertising is Tuesday noon. News deadline is Wednesday noon.

OPERATION PREPARATION—Brigham Young University prepares for the predicted largest Leadership Week enrollment in history. Although planning has been in progress since the end of the 1955 program, it has become greatly intensified during the past several weeks. Wells Cloward, Lamar Evans, Paul Warner, and Myrle Cloward, committee in charge of Leadership Week food service, inventory supplies. Food will be dispensed at the Smith cafeteria, Cougarat snack bar, and special stands located on the campus. Drs. Stewart Grow and Richard Poll are shown "practicing up" for their lectures on "The Case for the Democratic Party," and "The Case for the Republican Party." Republican lecture will be Wednesday night, Democratic lecture Friday night.

IT'S YOUR BALLOT--USE IT!

One of the most important activities of summer student government will occur today and tomorrow when studentbody officers are nominated and elected. Election of capable officers is as important during summer quarter as at any other time of year, but the apathy which in the past has sometimes greeted this function is appalling.

It is important in the next two days that students, as citizens of the university, recognize their obligation, first, to see that capable people are nominated and, secondly, to take the trouble to be informed voters when they go to the polls Friday. Neither of these obligations is particularly easy to carry out.

The desire to serve the studentbody seems to strike a proportionately smaller number during the summer than during the regular school year. We can only hope that a larger number than usual of conscientious students will urge their friends to try for the office and, when they are turned down, will be willing to do it themselves.

Being an informed voter, with only one day between nomination and election is no easy matter either. The short time does, however, nullify many of the campaign abuses which occur during the regular school year when all too many campaigns are based only on catchy slogans, elaborate posters and gimmicks in what sometimes seems to be a race to see who has the best potentials as a vaudeville promoter rather than a studentbody officer.

Again, we can only hope that the conscientious student will take the time to look over each candidate's qualifications rather than judge him by the lilting melody of his name or his patrician nose.

Four General Authorities Draw Posts As Leadership Lecturers

General Authorities who will address Leadership Week audiences at the daily devotional assemblies have been announced by Dr. Harold Glen Clark, clinic coordinator.

Guest speakers at the devotional assemblies, which are scheduled for 9:45 each day in the Joseph Smith auditorium, include President Joseph Fielding Smith, Elder LeGrand Richards, Elder Hugh B. Brown, and Elder S. Dilworth Young.

Pres. Smith, president of the Council of Twelve, will open the assembly series Monday, and also be featured in the Improvement of Teaching series at 1 p.m. in 261 of the McKay building.

Elder Richards is scheduled at Tuesday's assembly speaker. He will also be heard in the Youth Boy in the Service section at 8:30 p.m. in the Eyring Science Center.

Besides being speaker at Wednesday's assembly, Elder Brown will speak at the Improvement of Teaching series on the subject of "Loyalty."

Daily Assemblies Open To Summer Students

All summer school students are invited to attend the daily assemblies held during Leadership Week, June 18-22, it was announced this week by Howard T. Reid, Director of Summer School.

Summer school students may attend any leadership function, but they should register for Leadership Week in the regular way and obtain a lapel name card which should be worn at all times when attending Leadership Week functions. A $1.00 fee is charged for registering, and this entitles those attending Leadership Week to attend all the activities.

Lectures To Be Printed

Selected lectures of Leadership Week will be reproduced and sold for 10 cents per hour of lecture. Some of the speeches have already been recorded and will be available during the week.

A speech booth for displaying the material will be set up in the lobby of the Joseph Smith Building.

Departmental exhibits include those in Secretarial Training, Accounting, Industrial Arts, Men's Physical Education, Geography, Agronomy, Foods and Nutrition, Archeology, Nursing, English, Music, Air Science, Library, Human Development and Family Relations, Travel Study Tours, Counseling Service, Clothing and Textiles, Psychology and Homemaking Education.

and Recreation, on recreational activities in the home and church. Health aspect of the program includes classes on the diet of man, medical aspects of dieting, enzymes, hormones, and vitamins.
Five divisions are offered under the arts. These include painting, arts and crafts, sculpture, writing for Church occasions and speaking in church and drama.
Under family life, series in family health, family business problems and getting the most from family life will be given. "Who's Who in East and West," "Your Boy in the Service" and "Communism — Unique Challenge to the Latter-day Saint" are series included under the current affairs section.

Religion classes will include courses in missionary methods, the Old Testament, Paul's life and interpreting L.D.S. Church history. A number of sections will be given in improvement of teaching methods and a special series on great issues in education is planned.

Parking Procedures Set For Leadership Guests

Student parking area at the extreme north of the campus has been designated as the parking area for Leadership Week patrons. During the week, they may park there without registering their cars. Teachers of Leadership Week activities may park in the faculty parking area.

Staffs throughout the university are busy preparing for their part in the activities.

For the Working Man...

Leaders' Digest Innovated

Utah Valley people who work during the day as well as students who have day classes may participate in all the major topics of Leadership Week through the new Leader's Digest Program.
This series of lectures will be a summary of fields covered in day classes including religion, exhibits, archaeology, psychology, and sociology. The lectures will begin Monday, June 18, and continue each evening at 7:15 in 302 ESC until Friday.

Further information may be obtained at the BYU Extension Division office. All participants are required to pay a $1.00 registration fee.

FASHION FLAIR—Mrs. Fred Schwendiman, and Mrs. Ernest L. Wilkinson, chairman, give approval to a gown the model will wear in a fashion show scheduled for 8 p.m. Thursday in the Smith Assembly Hall. "Fashion Fair with a Forward Flair" is the title of the show which will emphasize LDS styles and moods in clothing.

Activity Cards Good For Guests Too, Now

For the first time, summer school students will be allowed to take one guest free to any function to which they themselves are admitted on their activity cards. Dr. Henry L. Isakson, Student Coordinator, has announced.

The new ruling was made because so many summer students are unmarried and because facilities are not crowded during the summer, Dr. Isakson said. It will apply for summer school.

Foreign Tours Offer Travel-Study Chance

Several places are still open for persons to take the Brigham Young University Travel-Study Tour through Mexico, according to Dr. Harvey Darrel Taylor, tour director. Age limit has been raised so that any person over 17 can take the tour, Drs. Taylor said.

So far, 15 people will be leaving June 22 by private automobile for the 22-day trip. They will tour Mexico City, the Vera Cruz area and return by the Gulf of Lower California and Grand Canyon. At Puebla and Mexico City, the group will join with branches there to present joint MIA programs.

Special features of the tour includes visits to Aztec ruins in Mexico valley, to a mountain resort where the swimming pool is filled daily with 1,000 gardenias, to another resort, Matzlan, on the Atlantic coast, and to the floating gardens of Xochimilco. The group will also see Mexican colonial architecture, the murals of Orozco and Rivera and a bull fight.

Two student tours, part of the Travel-Studies program of the Brigham Young University Extension Division, are bound for Europe this month.

Student Tour No. 1 sailed from Montreal June 12 and Tour No. 2 will leave June 22. Thirty-four students and young teachers are taking Tour No. 1 with Dr. Arthur Watkins of the language department as director and Dr. Jay Hunt of the history department as assistant director.

The tour will include stops in England, Holland, Belgium, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Italy, France, and Spain.

Dr. Preston Gledhill of the speech department will direct the 24 persons taking the second tour.

Strict Enforcement Of Rules Promised

Traffic laws will be strictly enforced during the summer session, Capt. Leonard E. Christensen, announced this week.

Students are requested not to drive in the J. S. Building area after 7 a.m. and loading zone limitation will be enforced because the space is needed by service vehicles, Christensen said.

The right to regulate traffic has been established by state law, according to Capt. Christensen. Regulations may be obtained from the security office, which is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

All students must have permits displayed, and student parking is available only in the student parking lot north of Family Living Center.

Capt. Christensen said that speed and lack of courtesy was the chief cause of accidents.

Traveling Team...

Y Tracksters Get OK for European Trip

Members of the Brigham Young University track and field team will leave in early July for Europe. Official approval for the trip was announced Sunday by Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson, University president.

Clarence Robison, Y track coach who has guided his teams to 14 consecutive track and field victories, said he will take 15 performers on the European trip. The official party, it is believed, will consist of 17 or 18 persons.

Although an itinerary for the trip is still in the making, the BYU team is expected to compete in Britain, France, Ireland and several other countries during their six-week tour. They will travel by air to and from Europe.

Robison said the Cougars will compete with several amateur athletic clubs and against several individuals who will be representing their respective countries in the coming Olympics at Australia.

In winning their second consecutive Skyline Conference championship two weeks ago, the Cougars ran their string of victories to 14 straight.

Several of those performers who will be making the BYU trip will also compete in the NCAA and AAU meets scheduled this month in California.

There is also a chance they will see action in the U. S. Olympic trials later this month in Los Angeles.

Three of the current records in the Skyline Conference record books are held by members of this year's track and field team at BYU. Arlyn Fin-linson is credited with the 880 mark at 1:54.1, Sherald James set the two-mile standard at 9:32.8, and the mile-relay quartet set a new record this year at 3:17.7. The relay team consisted of Jim Crittenden, Arlyn Finlinson, Dick Heywood, and Oscar Anderson.

Recipe for Cool Summer Listening

From

KEYY

"The Popular Station"

Take one Gaylon Rowan, leading off KEYY's broadcast day with "Top O' the Morning" (5-7 a.m.), featuring pop music, cut in his own brand of corn, and you're off to a fine start. You'll also hear Gaylon for 4 hours of easy listening Saturday nights.

Add one ripe Hal Parkes who actually serves you "Breakfast in Bedlam" (7-9 a.m.) on a tray of pop and pop-concert music. For "brunch" and lunch Hal repeats with easy-going pops on "Music For M'Lady" (10-11 a.m.) and "High Noon" (12-1 p.m.)

At 1 p.m. three full hours of mild pop-concert stylings, "Serenade in the Afternoon," are measured out by Vern Brimley. Incidentally, with table model or portable radio, you'll find this ideal music to study by. Vern goes popular for 5 hours on "Saturday Afternoon Dancing Party."

After simmering for three hours, stir firmly with Joe Meier and "Discapades" (4-6 p.m.). In the course of a week should set well with good selection of Top 20 Tunes and nuggets of pure sweetness from mammoth KEYY library. Joe encores with "Platterama" (9-midnight) five nights a week.

For dinner-time listening, Kid Kay Lewis of the basso-profundo voice, spins music in "Melodic Moods" (6:15-7 p.m.), then whips up a fine meringue topping at 8:15 with top artists featured on "One Night Stand."

Garnish with Lou Sayre, whose saccharine voice is heard on KEYY throughout the day with newscasts, bath-tub poetry (when allowed) and other bits of incidental information.

Add seasoning to flavor with Dave Weiser, up-to-the minute sports "In the Lockerroom" (6-6:15 p.m.), and the classical "Music You Want" (7-8 p.m.). And Saturday you'll date Dave on "Saturday Night Dancing Party" (10-midnight) and "Requestfully Yours" (Midnight-3 a.m.)

Wards Combine During Summer; Meetings Slated

Summer program for the wards of the "Brigham Young University Stake" was announced this week by Fred Schwendiman, Stake Clerk.

Schwendiman said that new students are invited to attend any ward they wish, and that membership records are not required for the summer session.

The regular students should continue attending the ward which they attended last quarter, Schwendiman stated.

"All students are encouraged to attend church and take an active part in the summer program," he said.

Wards 2, 3, 5, and 12 will meet together, Wards 4 and 10 will meet together, Wards 6, 9 and 11 will meet together. Wards 1, 7 and 8 will not be combined with any other ward.

Bishops are Russel D. Lewis, First Ward; Charles Taylor, Second Ward; A. Lester Allen, Third Ward; William G. Dyer, Fourth Ward; W. Frank Killpack, Fifth Ward; Wayne B. Hales, Sixth Ward; Royal B. Stone, Seventh Ward; Melvin R. Brooks, Eighth Ward; Raymond E. Beckham, Ninth Ward; Clyde D. Sandgren, Tenth Ward; B. West Belnap, Eleventh Ward; and J. N. Symons, Twelfth Ward.

Paganinis Schedule Full Concert Week

Today during the regular assembly period, the Paganini Quartet and Carl Fuerstner will play four numbers from the composers, Mozart, Hindemith, Dvork and Schubert.

Wednesday night, June 20, at 8:30 p.m., and again Thursday during assembly, the quartet and Julius Baker will play compositions by Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms, Schumann and Britten. Friday, June 22 at 8:30 p.m. the quartet will play movements from Quartet in D Minor K. 421 by Mozart, and Piano Quintet in A major Op. 81 by Dvork.

The above recipe will be even more nourishing when blended with five-minute newscasts every hour on the half-hour

And for Dessert KEYY serves "Music Thru the Night" (1-5 a.m.) with Lou, Vern, Gaylon, Kay, Joe, and Dave
